

Collins

Rosella In The Colourless World

Written and Illustrated by
Harsifat Kaur

Rosella In The Colourless World

Written and Illustrated by
Harsifat Kaur

Rosella was an adventurous teenaged -17year old girl who designed her own dress for adventures. She wore a blue and yellow dress and attached big leaves to her dress which enabled her to fly. She lived on Planet 361, Southern Road Galaxy. On this planet, everyone was born as plants and transformed their body.

Rosella was born a rose, and transformed herself into a girl.

She loved to fly all around her planet. She and her friend Grazzila embarked on all kinds of adventures together. While Grazzila dived into books for information related to their adventures, Rosella did all the fighting, as she hated books.

One chirpy morning, Rosella and Grazzila decided to go for a walk in the forest. They were just roaming around when they saw that two trees were completely black and white. This was something not normal.

After seeing this bizarre phenomenon, they decided to check whether this was only happening on this planet or on other planets in the galaxy as well.

They decided to take a one week trip around other planets and find out. They discovered that this was happening only on their planet.

When they returned they received an unpleasant surprise and they both shouted, "EVERYONE IS BLACK AND WHITE!!" They were very scared.

They decided to visit the spot where they had first found the black trees. There they found nothing but a button. Grazzila pressed the button and appeared from the ground, the root of the problem, a large circular machine stealing all kinds of colours. It was around 7 meters in diameter and the exterior was colourful. Inside there were many beams of colours combining. Grazzila flew away to search for clues in her books.

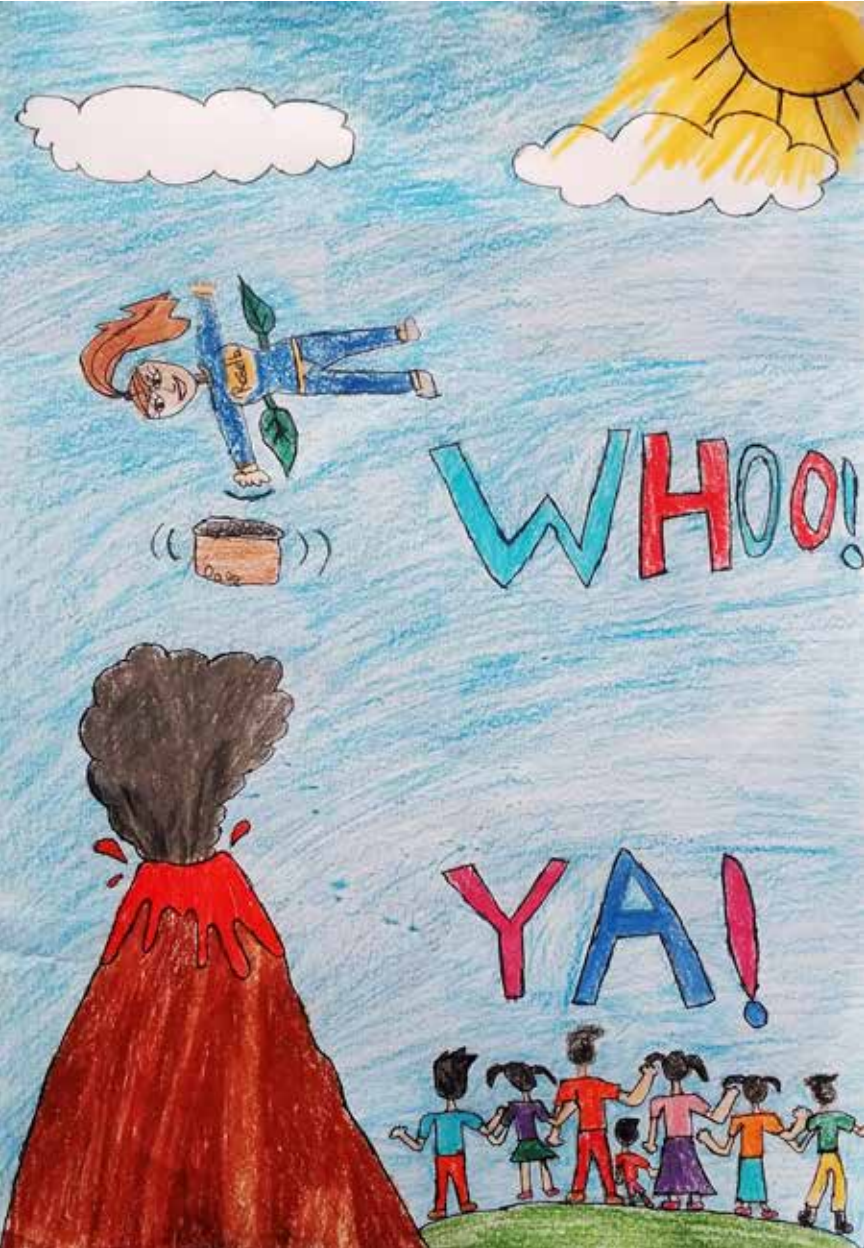

Rosella stood near the machinery and stopped it from spreading further by making a circular brick wall around the machinery by magic.

After a day Grazzila returned from her search and said that she found that if this machine gathered speed it could swallow their whole planet. She also told her that if something black and white touched the main button, the machine would fail. They were just discussing what to do next when a silvery light touched both of them. An evil voice said, "Now you two are also black and white and cannot move. Finally, I will rule the world. No one can stop me. Hahaha hahaha ha ha!"

After hearing the voice Rosella understood that the devil was none other than the monster whom she had once met while trekking and they both had a big fight. He must have been offended then and is now taking his revenge by making this colour-taking machine.

Rosella was scared. They couldn't imagine what would happen next. The machine was growing bigger minute by minute. The devil was rising, when suddenly, Rosella had an idea. The leaves attached to her body were under her mind's control. She instructed one of them to fall on the main button. It fell and the machine made a series of crash noises and failed and the devil was unable to rise. Cursing Rosella, the devil disappeared and the colours came back. Everyone was happy. Rosella threw the minimized machine in a huge volcano and they lived happily ever after in the colourful world.

About the Author

Harsifat Kaur loves reading, writing books and drawing images, playing badminton and eating veg pulao. If she could have a super power, she would want the ability to invent anything. It is because she wants to invent many things for the sake of the environment. Harsifat aspires to become a Scientist. She would like to make the world a better place by improving many things, but she really wants to change the use of AC to the use of coolers.

Mentor

Poonam Dasilva
Dhanashri Ubhayakar

Rosella In The Colourless World

Rosella is an adventurous girl living on planet 361. On one morning everything turns black and white. Will she be able to return colour to her world?

