CLARK THE SHARK

LOST AND FOUND

WRITTEN BY BRUCE HALE ILLUSTRATED BY GUY FRANCIS

“I have an exciting announcement,” said Mrs. Inkydink to Clark’s class.

“Today is our field trip
to the farmers’ market!”

“Woo-hoo!” cried the class.

“WOO-HOO!” cried Clark the Shark.

“I’ve never seen a farmers’ market.”

“Please remember three things,”
said Mrs. Inkydink.

“Hold hands with your buddies,
follow instructions,
and use your inside voices.”

Clark was so busy talking to Joey,
he wasn't paying attention.

“Did everyone get that?”
asked Mrs. Inkydink.

“Yes, teacher,” said the class.

“Get what?” asked Joey.

“I don’t know,” said Clark.

“Hurrah-hooray, it’s time to play!”

The farmers' market was exciting!
So much to see, so much to do,
and so much to eat.

“Look at all the FOOD!” cried Clark.

“Yum-yum-YUM!”

“What are the three things
Mrs. Inkydink told us to remember?” asked Joey.

“Um, stick with your buddy,
don’t get muddy, and, uh. . . .
I forget,” said Clark.
